A Word to Republicans

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of a stalwart Republican press. The Republican who reads or otherwise helps to support a Democratic paper to the exclusion of one of his own party newspapers is untrue to the Republican cause.

MEN of all political parties recognize the ability and integrity of A. M. J. COCHRAN and WILLIAM A. BYRON and their peculiar fitness for the offices to which they respectively aspire.

IT is not strange that ADLAI STEVENson feels at home in the South. He would naturally be uncomfortable wherever his record is known in the North; and it is getting to be pretty THE PUBLIC LEDGER CO. well known that ADLAI is an immensely popular speaker for the Confederate cross roads.

> THERE are some Western farmers who labor under the delusion that an alliance between the West and the South could be made that would sweep the country. They may be instructed by studying the manner in which WEAVER was driven out of Georgia with hoots and jeers, and his wife rotten-egged.

MR. SPRINGER, Chairman of the Democratic Ways and Means Committee, has been guilty of making the assertion 75 in a Western town that Senator CARLISLE did not assent to the report of the sub-committee of the Senate Finance Committee on Wages and Prices. Senator CARLISLE showed his faith in that report by using its statistics in his reply to Senator ALDRICH on the Tariff question. Mr. SPRINGER'S method of argument is simple but not laudable.

THE People's Party in Tennessee is insisting upon having the Federal election law enforced and upon their right to have supervisors appointed, as they were by President CLEVELAND'S United States Marshals in 1888. The People's Party in Tennessee and in other Southern states is made up of white Democrats. Most of them are well acquainted with the methods applied by the Southern Democratic organization to suppress negro votes. Now that perhaps there is a good deal of justice they are in opposition to the Democratic organization they do not propose to submit to having those methods applied double interest that fate exacts from its treaties at one swoop, the end of the encouragement by subsidies of lines of Criminally Assaulted and Then Most Poulsteamers—the stoppage of the National progress! The true expression of the Democratic tendencies would be a Confederacy of Barbary states. Democracy mutilated corpse of a young girl, almost means to demolish. There is not a entirely nude, partially concealed bebuilder in the party. The Democratic neath the thick grass. Every indicaparty has been striving without ceasing tion of a terrific struggle was plainly for two years to bring about hard times. visible. It has been in the consciousness of the country that disasters were what the Democracy craved. The good times under the McKinley law are good for Republicans. The statistics of the farms, the shops, the savings banks-of all the great industries-prove that we are going on prospering and to prosper under the Protection and reciprocity of confirms PECK, and he is undergoing legal prosecution and personal persecution for telling the truth. The Democratic party has nothing of its own of good report to offer the people.

A curious fact for the physiologist's investigation is the premature aging of old women's young husbands. The young man who marries a woman twenty years his senior by the time he is well in his forties looks sixty, while the young woman who weds the same disparity of years keeps her youth as long as her temperament and disposition permit. When Baroness-Burdett-Coutts married her very youthful spouse, Mr. Bartlett, she was a wellpreserved spinster of sixty odd. Now the gallant Mr. Burdett-Coutts, as he is called, looks, it is said, fully up to that, while the baroness, who is close upon eighty, appears as bright and as energetic as in middle life. There is no preservation of health equal to a good heart and an ample fortune, according to the Boston Herald, and the aged wife of the ambitious young American is distinguished for both of these possessions. Old age can be held at bay until the very end, as Ninon de l'Enclos' career bears witness, but the conditions must be favorable and the years must be well gilt. Poverty never kept any woman young; yet, after all, in the averaging of time, and this premature aging of men who marry thus for wealth and position is but the

The Tariff Not a Tax.

LEAD PENCILS.

" Even the children of the poor are compelled to bear part of the burden imposed by this wretched system," says the Free Trade lecturer to his admiring audience "It spares neither home nor school, but forces a child to pay 60 cents 'tax' on every gross of lead pencils used by him to write his lessons." Put next to this Free-Trade assertion, the fact that the best lead pencils in the world can be bought in any stationery store for 45 cents a gross, and you have one of the thousand and more isolated facts, which have caused our people to vote Protection into power in every contest in which it has been the issue.- From AMERICAN ECONOMIST.

WAYNE MACVEAGH speaks of the Mc-Kinley law as one "which I cannot but think was an uncalled-for disturbance of the then existing Tariff." The changes in our commerce and in the needs of our revenue had brought about a condition under the old Tariff schedule, under which a large surplus was going into the Treasury. Mr. Mac-VEAGH gives as a reason for supporting CLEVELAND that the Republicans did what even CLEVELAND had contended was necessray-that is, reduced the revenue. The true objection of Mr. MACVEAGH to the McKinley bill is that its schedules while yielding only enough revenue to support the Government, afford Protection to American industries. In other words, Mr. MacVEAGH is in accord with the Democratic platform and for Free-trade, as he was when he voted for CLEVELAND in 1888. All who believe with him belong to the Democratic

Poolish Patients.

"There seems little to choose," says a physician, "between the sexes in the matter of desire to take medicine regularly, and it is often impossible to persuade an apparently rational-minded patient that a cure has been effected, that no more medicine is needed, and that nothing but good diet and careful habits are required to build up the constitution. A number of doctors save themselves from falling from grace by prescribing a harmless tonic after effecting a cure, but those who pride themselves in disposing of cases by aid of a dozen doses or less seldom attain any great popularity. The often quoted and much vaunted practice in China of paying a physician while his patient is well, and stopping his pay during sickness, could never be introduced successfully into this country because so many people who are perfectly well are preparing to file affidavits that they are dangerously sick that no doctor under the China regime would be able to earn his

A Sociable Colonel.

When Gen. Charles H. Van Wyck, of Nebraska, was running for congress, many years ago, in the Fifteenth New York district, says the Chicago Herald, there was a certain Irishman who steadfastly refused to give the old soldier any encouragement. The colonel was greatly surprised, therefore, when Pat informed him, on election day, that he had concluded to support him. to hear it, glad to hear it," said the colonel; "I rather thought you were against me, Patrick." The body was later identified as that of Katie Dugan, aged 16. At first it was thought the crime was committed by one of the colored men living in the vicinity, particularly as other girls had been outraged at this place some time ago.

This belief was, however, quickly dispelled when the crowd heard the story of the girl's father. He stated that about 8 o'clock Wednesday night he was the Republicans. The whole country, entering his house near the scene of the with the exception of the Mugwumps, crime, when a young man of medium confirms PECK, and he is undergoing stature emerged from the shadow of the house and disappeared down the avenue. It was not long after that when Katie put on a light evening coat and stated that she was going out, but would return in a few minutes. Her younger sister, Lizzie, asked permission to accompany her, but this request was refused. The girl left the house and that was the last seen of her alive.

Mr. Dugan also stated that the girl had received a letter during the morning, written in a musculine hand, and that she refused to divulge its contents even to her parents. This letter, it is believed was written by the murderer, who enticed her to the spot where the body was found. A post-mortem examination was held Thursday afternoon, when it was learned that a criminal assault had been committed and that the girl had first been knocked down by a stone, which rendered her unconscious. Recovering her senses she fought fiercely for all that was dear to her and until the murderer silenced her in death by using a knife.

Detectives at 1 o'clock arrested Richard Riley on suspicion of being the murderer, at his home. He kept com-pany with the murdered girl.

AT CINCINNATI.

Half a Million People Witness a Splendid Pageant in Memory of Christopher Co-

CINCINNATI, Oct. 22 -The splendor of the pageantry of the nineteenth century found a magnificent illustration in this city Friday. Columbus was memory-laden with the applause and honor of a half million of people, and the climax of the series of wonderful demonstrations by the children and adults of Cincinnati was attained.

The embarkation of Columbus, from Spain (the East End Athletic grounds) to San Salvador (the Courthouse grounds at Newport), his return to Palos (Cincinnati), and his reception at Barcelona (the Cincinnati Music hall), was the unique and attractive programme of imagery provided for the delighted thousands.

Not only did the entire population of Cincinnati participate in the gorgeous festivities, but thousands of our neighbors in other cities and other states poured in by every train during the day and helped to swell the countless thousands on the thoroughfares and united their voices with ours in cheering the beautiful and inspiring tpec-

Two Probable Murders at Pittsburgh. PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22 - Early Thursday morning as Gus Smith and Hans Sutter, day laborers in Carnegie's Upper Union mill, were passing down Fortyfourth street, en route to their work, they were set upon and terribly beaten by five men, alleged to be strikers. They were found an hour later and sent to the West Penn hospital. Smith's injuries are thought to be fatal, while Sutter lies unconscious and in an extremely critical condition. There is no positive clew to the assailants and no arrests have yet been made.

Will Be a Fight Sure. CHICAGO, Oct. 22.-Jim Corbett was shown the London cablegram stating that Charley Mitchell had posted a for feit to fight him for $10,000 a side at New Orleans next May, "I will gladly make this match," he said, "and take some trouble to do so. But I do not believe that Mitchell has posted the money or challenged in good faith.
